

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. Method of judging the onset of periodontitis, comprising detection or measurement of γ -glutamyl transpeptidase contained in gingival crevicular fluid.
2. Method of judging the onset of peri-implant inflammation, comprising detection or measurement of γ -glutamyl transpeptidase contained in the blood collected around the buried implant.